Stutton Remembers

On Saturday 10th November 2018 an afternoon of remembrance to commemorate the 100-year anniversary of WW1 was held in Stutton Village Hall.

During the afternoon a new stone memorial commemorating all those we have lost from our Parish during times of conflict and peace was unveiled. A two minute silence was observed and the Last Post was sounded. The names of those parishioners lost in the First World War were recorded on the outline of the soldier beside the memorial stone and reproduced below.

Remembering the brave boys and men connected to Stutton-cum-Hazlewood who gave up their lives in World War One.
